Dedication

MRS. Wendy Fajardo and MRS. Jennifer Skane

We, the class of 2009, dedicate our yearbook to two people who have made a positive impact in each and every one of our lives. They have helped us fill out college applications, battle senioritis, and have always had their doors open whenever we needed a friendly ear. We thank you both for all you have done for us and for guiding us towards the path we are on today!

Love,
The Class of 2009

Class Advisors

Four years ago you came to Essex Aggie in order to pursue an education in agriculture; you left the friends you grew up with and started a new life with a new family here at the Aggie. It was a confusing time for you, as freshman on an enormous campus not knowing where you were going or how to get there, both literally and figuratively.

You quickly learned how to muck a stall, the proper way to plant, and how to do a water quality test and over the past 4 years have chosen the paths you will either use in the work force or continue to pursue in college.

But by the end of those trying times... in June of 2006, you began to feel more a part of a class than a collection of students with incredibly different backgrounds. You were now seeing yourselves as the class of 2009.

As this year came to an end many of you mentioned how your teachers have taught you so much, how they have taught you to climb a tree with confidence and a chainsaw, how you have learned to boil down sap to make some of the best maple syrup I've ever tasted, and how you've learned how to do physical exams on just about every animal on this campus.

Take with you how to treat an injured horse, even if it was only strawberry jam. Take with you the talent to make a beautiful floral arrangement, and how to build a canoe and read a compass. Take with you your capability to clip down a golden retriever in 15 minutes flat and the Knack to mow this whole front lawn in no time at all. Most importantly take with you the passion for agriculture you came here with 4 years ago. Although you began as a much larger group you sit here in front of us tonight: 83 strong, 83 hard-working and dedicated, life-long learners. As the years passed you were a class of many firsts. You held the first Essex Aggie low plop, co-hosted the first Semi-Formal, the first to survive hostage cookies, you were the first to go to Europe, the first to have class officers and the first to have a full senior week.

You have also been members of the FFA, champion cross country runners, cheerleaders, and members of the first woman's and men's lacrosse teams here at the Aggie.

Look at all the things you have accomplished. Take the fond memories of your achievements, of going to Nationals, of winning the big game, and the knowledge learned and keep them in a special place in your heart.

As you leave here do not be sad but remember this is not the end but just the first taste of success, there will be many more to follow! You will all hold a very special place in our hearts and we are so very proud of you.

Congratulations and best wishes to the class of 2009!

Love, Ms. Grima and Mr. Pellegrino

To the Class of 2009,

As the Superintendent-Director of Essex Agricultural and Technical High School, I take great pride in congratulating the Class of 2009 on your graduation from this extraordinary high school. You are clearly the beneficiaries of a very special educational experience focused on the agricultural and technical sciences. I am most confident that your time at Essex Aggie has prepared you well for whatever career path your future may hold and that you have acquired the academic, agricultural, and technical knowledge and skills to be successful.

I will always be especially grateful to this class for taking the time to educate me with regards to the value and benefits that the National FFA Organization provides our students. Through your efforts, I have learned that FFA truly is an organization that is dedicated to making a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education. Please accept my sincerest thanks for including and involving me in the many FFA activities that took place during your senior year.

Please keep in mind that as an Alumnus you will always be a valued member of the Essex Aggie family. I hope that you come back to visit us often and become active in activities that support our school.

Your futures are bright and full of promise. It is my wish that your life will always be filled with happiness and success.

Sincerest best wishes,
Roger Bourgeois
Superintendent-Director

Congratulations to the Class of 2009.

During your four years at Essex Aggie you have demonstrated an enthusiasm as well as an individual and collective spirit that has made a lasting impression on the faculty and administrators. You have demonstrated that you can work together to solve a problem or stand on your own two feet to demonstrate the same. Use these skills that you have acquired at Essex to achieve in any field that you choose. Your success is shared and appreciated by the people who have worked with you.

Do not look at your High School graduation as the end but rather as a new beginning. It is a beginning of the portion of your life where you take control of your own education and personal development. It is all in your hands now and if you approach this next phase of your life with the same energy that you brought with you to Essex in the fall of 2005, you will do very well.

Good luck
Gene N. Demsey
Principal

Dear Class of 2009,

It has been a distinct pleasure to have been able to serve as your Assistant Principal. We have come a long way together and I have enjoyed the time I have spent with each of you. The honor has been all mine to be not only your Assistant Principal but as your Physical Education/Health Teacher and Athletic Director as well. I have enjoyed observing all of you develop into wonderful young adults that have now moved on to another chapter in your life.

Thank you for sharing your life with Essex Aggie and me personally. Our school is a special place because of you and the individual and collective talents that you all have. Please know you will be thought of and missed in the years to come. I wish you all the very best and if you ever need anything please let me know.

All my best,

Mr. Dolan

You Know You Go To The Aggie When...

Two words; Taco Tuesdays

The "waffles" are not edible

Your after school activities take place in a barn or lab instead of a sport field

You've bored your friends with an hour long lecture when they've referred to any conifer as a "pine tree"

You are convinced that your major is the only one that does any real work

Your midterms and finals include making bows, testing water quality from the school's ponds, identifying the proper climbing knots, and out smarting a llama.

You refuse to wash your hands with anything except for purel and gojo

You are an expert on the TB tunnels, and have tried to get your teachers to let you go in them at least once

You've roasted hot dogs and cooked jiffy pop at the burn pile instead of going to lunch

There's tons of rodents... and that's a good thing

You've brought Oreo the cat into your class room

The first thing you do when you go to the Topsfield fair is stop by the FFA Cider Stand to buy a hot apple cider

The first thing you check on your schedule is if you have a class in Smith Hall because you know that walking up those steps is torture

You know that each floor in the Science Building has its own distinct smell

The most exciting part about getting your learner's permit was the fact that you were now allowed to drive the gators

You've saved a few bucks by having your dog groomed at the school

You cross the highway to eat lunch

FFA Pizza Night is bigger than the prom

Your back to school shopping includes boots.

You have to keep a bottle of eyewash handy.

You know the difference between the smell of horses, cows and llamas.

Your double thick sweatshirt is a must on cold days.

Your day ends with asking "where is bus number..."

When you learn about a new plant the first thing you ask is "it is edible".

Remember When...

Henry punched a block of wood in half for "5 bucks".

Stephen Nelson jumped in the 10 foot pile of horse manure.

I pushed Tim in horse poop...was an accident

Our freshman year we had that wicked bad storm and our class went to get the horses and a couple got out but we caught them all and as soon as we put the horses in it stopped raining.

Edwin slid under the bus.

Something funny happened that I can't remember.

Erin started playing the invisible banjo in gym to "I'm Yours" by Jason Mraz and the rest of the class joined in with their invisible instruments.

We had so much fun at the green and white games.

I brought my cat and dog to Vet Tech class for practice on physical exams and restraints.

Ms. Rhodes told Mia she would never get a job.

We had to move the fish gravel to the dryer and couldn't remember how to use a wheelbarrow.

Kourtney J smooshed chocolate pudding in Tony's face and he accidentally got it in his hair and everything the he tried to put it on me and Corinne.

We had the spirit games.

We locked Marlene out of Mrs. Swartz's class and she thought we left class without her.

We had a burping contest on the bus coming home from a game, me against Mr. Grace.

Cameron had to be on pants patrol for me in grooming.

Me and Vinny met in detention on our first week of freshman year and became friends.

Marlene choked on a pen cap while Mr. Simendinger was playing with his Abe Lincoln life sized cut out.

We were freshman and never thought four years would go by in the blink of an eye.

Keith and Sarah Young were laughing hysterically at each other for an hour straight one night on the sophomore ES Alpine Ecology trip.

Kelsey ate the entire menu at IHOP.

We learned not to say "SHUT UP" in the library.

I became best friends with the coolest girl in the world.

Lorena fell down the hill to Wood Hall.

Doug hit Briana Bransfield in the mouth with a nugget of horse poop

Keith Anderson lost his glasses in gym class while running and ran straight into Alyssa.

You fell off the chair in Ms. Plante's class doing the photosynthesis dance.

There was "word of the day" in Ms. Pierce's biology class.

We finally got a girls' and boys' lacrosse team.

The class of 2009 had the first semi-formal.

Mr. Grace almost gave an inspirational speech, then decided the starfish wasn't worth it.

was in freshman year and brought a frog home in a water bottle when Ms. Cyr told me not to.

Sophomore animal science group 1 held the fake iguana for ransom.

Jeffery got spun around on the auger because Justin, Jason, and I set him up.

Ms. Corson had a paper clip in her hair at parent teacher conferences.

Logan face planted off "the cow".

Casey asked Mrs. Bartsch what the power button on the microscope did.

Elison W rolled down the hill going to the gym.

Ms. Corson fell off the chair.

We talked about pee pee tee-pees in Ms. Corson's class.

Freshman year all my friends were together.

Mr. Saulnier's bathroom experience on the river trip.

We went to the Topsfield Fair cattle show

Horse Management went to Topsfield fair and Krystal tried to pat the ox and the ox tried to attack her.

Dick brushed his teeth with cortisone cream on the river trip.

My whole ag class had a special notebook we wrote everything in, the Red notebook.

All the times Erin L tried to fly.

The Mexican company kept calling Doug's cell phone and setting it off in class.

Courtney Toohey was holding the rabbit and it peed all over Becca.

Ethany and Edwin ate beef/poultry toothpaste in the grooming lab.

The 2008 girls XC team won C.A.C's for the first time ever!

Keelinn fell down Ms. Rhodes's stairs going to the nurse with a bloody nose during midterms.

Casey spit her gum out on Keelinn's leg during freshman year!

Chris Rita shaved half his head.

I walked through those doors and saw the structure of my future.

Edwin fell down the railing when he was sliding down it at the fish barn.

We got here freshman year and made new friends and got really close to a few people.

We groomed our first dog.

Ethany peed her pants.

Sam, Courtney D. and Mia wrote Uncle Speduncle's magical forest trip.

Ernie and Chic'n decided that turkeys and chickens needed pants and trousers with suspenders to stay warm in the winter.

Ms. Dachus was here.

"You cannot turn your back on any challenge physical or mental. If you do, you diminish yourself, and the next time it will be easier to say, "no I cannot do it." If you take hazards as they come and survive, you will be stronger and better and the trip will be a milestone in your life, one, you will always know as a 'turning point.'

Chapter II is on "Technology Development: Key Issues in Productivity" by Chandana Perera and Sarath Dasanayake. The discussion with a brief history of science and technology development in Sri Lanka. This chapter also discusses the importance of technology development in Sri Lanka. The chapter also discusses the importance of technology development in Sri Lanka.

Part IV is on Employment and Labour. In this contribution entitled "Labour Productivity Growth and the 'Employment Generation'" Ravindra A. Yatawara is of the view that the development process is a primary of productivity growth and employment generation. Productivity growth increases competitiveness and results in higher living standards, while new employment helps to eliminate poverty and prevents social unrest. He uses disaggregated data in his study to examine the links between productivity, employment growth and wages and he concludes that wage growth and the resultant rise in living standards are the main drivers of economic growth.

but to accept the brain drain as a long term problem that could be mainly internal factors, but of structural nature. However, he mentioned one of the key factors that promoted the brain drain was the steady depreciation of the Sri Lankan rupee, which has led to a depreciated rate of exchange. Part V covers "Constitutional and Governmental Reform", written by Dr. Jayawardene. Dunham has dealt with the liberalization policies that commenced in 1977 and the policies that were abandoned under J.R. Jayawardene. Dunham is critical of the Jayawardene policies because the emphasis was not on economic policy and he goes on to speak of "constitutional changes, repression of the press and the muzzling of the judiciary". He adds "the changes were political and economic changes that were implemented by the Jayawardene government in 1977".

Chapter 15, "Economic Liberalization and Institutional Reform", by Dr. Jayawardene. Dunham has dealt with the liberalization policies that commenced in 1977 and the policies that were abandoned under J.R. Jayawardene. Dunham is critical of the Jayawardene policies because the emphasis was not on economic policy and he goes on to speak of "constitutional changes, repression of the press and the muzzling of the judiciary". He adds "the changes were political and economic changes that were implemented by the Jayawardene government in 1977".

the primary approach and goes on to deal with the institutional framework of the employment oriented policies that were put into effect during the liberalized regime after 1977.

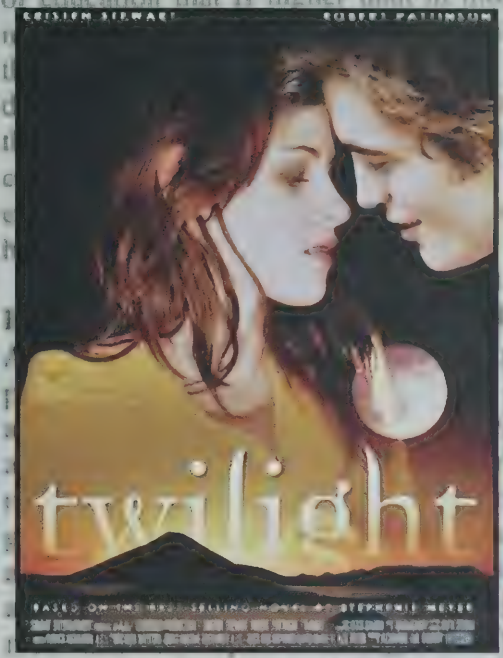

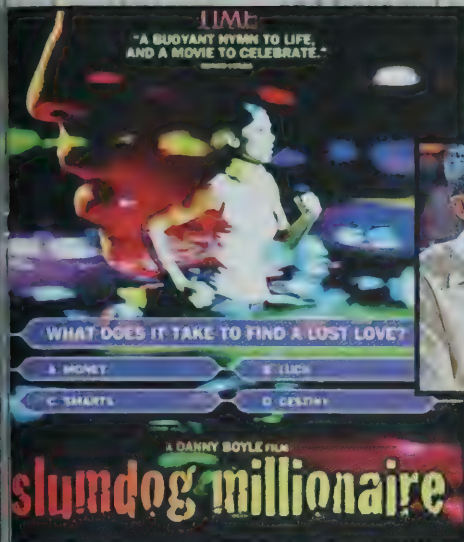

he goes on to say that the post reform period was probably the most difficult period for the country. He mentions the economic crisis of 1994 and the promise "for an end to the economic crisis". Dunham concludes that the government has not yet implemented the necessary changes in political culture and the institutional framework of policy.

On the contrary, there is a widely held view that once the war is in the past (which may be realized) the persistent problems of corruption and policy management will fast come to the fore again".

Laksiri Jayasuriya written on, "The Colo Welfare State". The first question he poses is "How did Sri Lanka as a low to middle income country manage to mark on the complex task of creating a welfare state"? However, his thesis that the welfare state until around 1970's is a legacy of Sri Lanka's colonial past" is not a proposition that can be easily substantiated. He refers to a "social policy" that has not been adequately explained, apart from his reference to education. Nevertheless, he had identified three main phases of social policy. The first phase was upto 1931, the second phase from 1931 to 1948 and the third, covers the first two decades of Independence ending in 1970. The question that needs to be posed is under British rule was there a social policy? The question must surely

A chapter is on "Over the Health Sector". The Chapter provides a history of the health sector and their evolution. The policies that contributed to the vast improvements in health care have been analyzed. De Silva stresses the need for a comprehensive national health policy incorporating health financing and the co-ordination of the public and private health services, instead of ad hoc developments in the health sector.

the poor and signalled the need for evolving policies and measures to alleviate poverty. Hewavitharana highlights two phases of policy making in 1977 and 1989. The latter period emphasizes the private sector as the engine of growth and attempts to link the poor to the growth process. He goes on to point out that the poor are casualties of four forms of marginalization, economic, political, social, and spatial. He argues that there has to be consistency between macroeconomics policy, institutional change and action at the micro level. Hewavitharana argues that bad governance associated with the politicization of the public service with a humanitarian framework that is not service oriented, works to

LIFE CARE CENTER of the NORTH SHORE

Life Care Center of the North Shore is privately owned and is Lynn's best-kept secret. Located in a quiet, secluded residential neighborhood, we offer a comfortable, active environment where residents receive the nursing and rehabilitation they need while maintaining their maximum independence. Our commitment to quality care is demonstrated through our accreditation with The Joint Commission.

We provide:

- Admissions seven days a week, including holidays
- Cable TV and telephones in all rooms on short-term unit
- 52" flat screen televisions in living rooms on each floor
- Breakfast buffet in main dining room held Monday - Friday from 7-8:45 a.m.
- Experienced unit managers who run our three units
- Registered nurse practitioner coverage
- A comprehensive rehab program led by a doctorate level physical therapist.
- Our rehab department offers thermal and electrical modalities: electrical stimulation, ultrasound and short wave diathermy.
- An outstanding wound care program with weekly rounds led by the medical director, nursing associates and our doctorate of physical therapy for added healing modalities.

- Ready...Set...Go! Program - our goal before a resident is discharged is to ensure that he/she is ready for life at home.
- Plan Ahead Program - This program allows a patient, physician, case manager and/or hospital discharge planners to reserve a bed on our subacute unit prior to patient's surgery. We have designed this program to relieve a patient's anxiety before and after surgery, and to ease the transition from the hospital to recovery.
- Wireless internet service
